responsible and effective citizens. Students at KIS are encouraged to be inquirers, communicators, risk-takers and thinkers who are knowledgeable, caring, open-minded, reflective, principled and well balanced.

Action and community service are a fundamental part of the KIS experience. Projects at the school, grade and individual levels seek to aid and protect both humanity and the planet. From saving the hornbills to teaching their peers basic first aid, KIS students embrace community service as an integral part of their life.

KIS teachers are a group of vibrant, supportive and exceptional educators. Teamwork is the name of the game especially so in the unique team-teaching strategy used in the Primary Years Programme. This approach to teaching is a partnership between teachers at each grade level. Students benefit from a variety of teaching techniques, one-on-one support and role models of collaboration.

Let's not forget KIS parents, our primary educators and partners; they are well known for going that extra mile. Whether they are volunteering at field trips, mentoring students, or sharing their expertise in drama, music and dance, our parents believe in, embody and implement the KIS educational philosophy.
